Detailed Itinerary:

Day 1: Ngorongoro Conservation Area

Ngorongoro Conservation Area (2°30'-3°30'S, 34°50'-35°55'E) is a World Heritage Site located 180 (km) west of Arusha in the far north of Tanzania, adjoining the south-eastern edge of Serengeti National Park. An immense concentration of wild animals live in the huge and perfect crater of Ngorongoro. It is home to a small relict population of black rhinoceros and some 25,000 other large animals, largely ungulates, alongside the highest density of mammalian predators in Africa. Nearby are lake-filled Empakaai crater and the active volcano of Oldonyo Lengua. Excavations carried out in the Olduvai Gorge to the west, resulted in discoveries which have made the area one of the most important in the world for research on the evolution of the human species.

Day 2: Ngorongoro Crater Tour

Descend down to the Ngorongoro Crater, one of the wonders of the natural world. An extinct volcano that collapsed some 25 million years ago thus forms a vast super bowl where the largest permanent concentration of African gam is on display.

The views from the top of the crater wall are absolutely breathtaking which are forested but four wheel drive vehicles will take you down into this primeval paradise of woodland, lake, river, swamp and plain that shelters around 20,000 animals. Large grazing animals such as Wildebeests, Buffalo, Gazelles and Zebras that depend on the open grasslands in the crater. Attracting predators, the black-manned lion, the leopard and hyena. There elephants found are the lone males. The Fever Tree forests shelter monkeys, bushbuck and waterbuck and the few black rhino that have taken refuge here.

A soda lake attracts water birds, including flamingos and is a favourite place for predators to make their kill. Wildly beautiful as it is, it is not surprising that Ngorongoro Crater has been called the Garden of Eden. The game drives are done with packed lunch.

You will end the tour with dinner and overnight at the Ngorongoro Sopa Lodge.

Day 3: Drive Back to Arusha

After breakfast, you will drive back to Arusha in time for Lunch. After lunch, you will be transferred to your hotel or airport for your final departure.
